CULTURE CAFÉ MANIFESTO

Art is for sharing, it is democratic and social, it brings people together, and can change lives for the better.

Art nurtures emotional and philosophical understanding of our connection to people, place, nature and society.

Art drives social change and reflects historical and contemporary life.

Art and artists communicate ideas of the heart, the hand and the head, providing a valuable mirror for society and the human condition.

Art transcends economic value and sustains beyond the tangible.

Art, artists and culture make a significant contribution to economic and social health and wealth of our society.

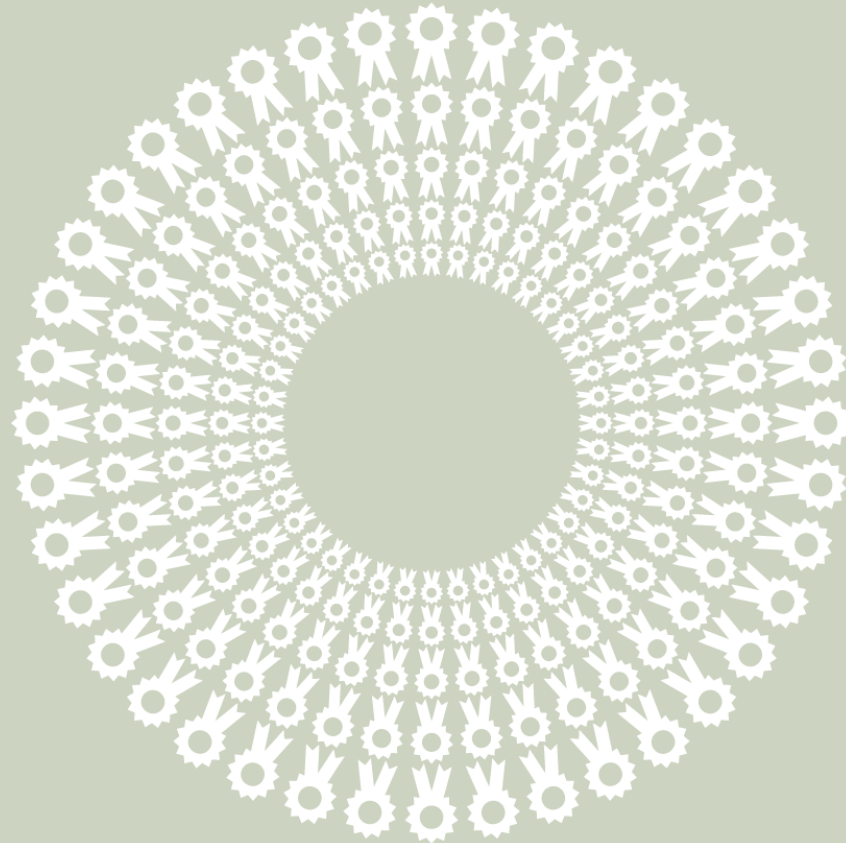

Art is a living, vibrant, necessary part of life.
